

7. Attach a piece of paper that you have decorated in some way. This is your chance to artistically demonstrate who you are and what you are about. Be as creative as you want to be.

NOTE: Applicants will be judged on poise, charm, originality, enthusiasm, fervor, cleanliness, and appearance. But seriously, McGill is looking for applicants who will thrive in its environment and who will not only welcome the culture McGill possesses but seek to enhance it.

I understand that if I am accepted into the McGill Project, in order to reserve my space, I must file a completed Vanderbilt Housing Contract and the $200 deposit by the published deadline.

I understand that if I fail to make my room deposit by the deadline; I will lose my reservation for the McGill Project.

I understand that if I am accepted into the McGill Project and I ratify that acceptance by making a room deposit, I will not be eligible to participate in the random selection process.

I understand that if accepted, I will be expected to abide by Vanderbilt University housing policies and regulations. Furthermore, I will participate in McGill Project activities and in efforts, which will be determined by the group decision in consultation with the McGill Executive Council, to render the Project financially self-sufficient.

I understand that if I am accepted into the McGill Project and choose to live in McGill, I agree to participate in the McGill Project. I understand that I am expected to attend a minimum of 25% of McGill functions such as McGill Hours and monthly residence hall meetings.

Furthermore, I will pay dues of no more than $15 per semester to render the Project financially self-sufficient.

McGill Project members who fail to pay their dues, and attend monthly residence hall meetings and weekly McGill Hours may be re-evaluated by the McGill Executive Council. In consultation with the McGill Executive Council, the Office of Housing and Residential Education may reassign a McGill Project member to another residence hall for failure to participate in the McGill Project program.
