Report on Campus Dining

10 March 2015

Q: Why are Vanderbilt employees offered discounts at some dining facilities, but not others?

A: Facilities such as the Medical Center's Courtyard Café are actually managed by a completely different service than the Rand Dining Center and The Commons. Therefore, the discounts offered by these locations may vary. To see a map of locations managed by Campus Dining, please follow the link below:

For faculty and staff, Vanderbilt's Campus Dining offers a discounted meal plan which consists of 10 meals for $72.50 (plus applicable tax). A standard meal includes an entrée, 2 sides, and a beverage. These discounted meals can be purchased here: <https://meals.vanderbilt.edu/meals/>

Additionally, USAC is excited to announce that Campus Dining has generously agreed to make their faculty/staff meal plan offer of 15 meals for the price of 10 available twice a year as opposed to the usual once. This offer has historically been made available the week following commencement and will now also be available the first week of winter break. There is a limit of one of these deals per person each time it is made available.
