End of the Year Luncheon

Richland Country Club

President's Message

Framed on the wall in my office is an old newspaper article from the September 7, 1987 Louisville Courier Journal. The headline reads, "Furthering the lives of women has driven four generations".

There is also a big photograph.

In the photograph, are four generations:

My great grandmother – the first female Kindergarten teacher in Kentucky

My grandmother – a tireless advocate and teacher for what was then known as the Kosair Crippled Children's Home

My mother – devoted to the cause of promoting education for women

And me: in 1987, the recent college graduate who had done nothing to promote or influence the lives of women; who felt completely unworthy of being included in the article.

As I began to think about this column, I noticed the newspaper article on the wall and pondered what I had done with my life since then.

I realized – that I had been focused on furthering the lives of women.

For example:

During my time volunteering with the West End Home Foundation, I learned it is an organization founded over 130 years ago – just after the close of the civil war – in order to support Tennessee women who were widowed by the war. Today it is a foundation run by women, annually providing over $2 MM in grants to non-profit organizations who support senior adults.

My volunteer work with the Nashville City Cemetery Association opened my eyes to the richness of our city's history. A walk through the cemetery is truly a walk through Nashville's history. The gravestones tell the stories of individuals and families from the 1820s to the present day. And it is where every 50 years or so groups of women gather to save the old cemetery.

It led directly to my involvement with the Metro Historical Commission and in saving Fort Nashborough, the reconstructed stockade established to recreate the 1779 fort which was the forerunner to the settlement which eventually became Nashville. If you get the chance to hear Metro Historian Dr. Carole Bucy tell the story of how the women working inside the Fort unleashed the dogs to save the Fort from an Indian attack and therefore saving the first citizens of Nashville – it is a wonderful story.

Through my association with Christmas Village – an organization of women founded over 50 years ago – I was able to help raise funds for the Vanderbilt Bill Wilkerson Speech and Hearing Center. Over 20,000 people visit the State Fairgrounds in Nashville for four days on the second weekend in November to shop in six buildings from over 250 vendors. Over $9 MM has been raised.

Pi Beta Phi Fraternity, Daughters of the American Revolution, PEO, and CABLE

The Vanderbilt Woman's Club acknowledges the late Margaret Branscomb, wife of Chancellor Harvie Branscomb, for the major plantings of the magnolia trees on campus and honors her in the naming of the newsletter.

VANDERBILT

are all women's organizations in which I have enjoyed volunteering my time and talents.

Most recently I worked at Vanderbilt University Dyer Observatory as the Education and Outreach Director engaging middle school students with STEM lessons and project-based learning units. One of the most fun ventures involved singer-songwriter Beth Nielsen Chapman and The Mighty Sky – a CD of science songs for children of all ages. It recently received a Grammy Award nomination. This country girl from Owensboro, Kentucky certainly never dreamed it would be possible to be associated with a Grammy-nominated album!

However, what would have made my mother, my grandmother, and my great grandmother the most proud – is what I have done for the last two years – serving as the President of the Vanderbilt Woman's Club, an organization founded 120 years ago to bring together the women of Vanderbilt University; to provide an opportunity for intellectual, cultural, and social activities within the community and the university; to support and assist the mission of the university; and to sponsor the Ada Bell Stapleton/Blanche Henry Weaver Scholarship through fundraising.

And I am certainly very proud of the work we have done together, the friends we have made, and the fun we have had. Thank you to each and every one!

Letter from Scholarship Recipient

Hello!

My name is Jessica Nieto, also known as “Jekka,” which is my childhood nickname. Vanderbilt has been a wonderful experience for me starting four years ago when I arrived on campus as a freshman. I have involved myself in many new organizations and activities, including Alpha Omicron Pi Fraternity for Women, Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity, and Omicron Delta Kappa National Leadership Honor Society, of which I served as President this year. Over the past three and a half years, I have also built a mentoring relationship with a local girl named Tamia by tutoring and teaching her to read through The Vanderbilt Afterschool Program.

On top of all my extracurricular commitments, I also devote myself fully to my studies. As a neuroscience major, and double minoring in biology and managerial studies, I am hard pressed to find time for classes outside of the hard sciences. However, in the spring of 2012, I found myself in a Greek Civilizations class to fulfill a requirement. I fell in love with ancient Greek culture and was ecstatic to learn of the Maymester study abroad class about ancient Greek religion, myths, and rituals. The only obstacle to this aspiration was my financial situation. The program was not only expensive by itself, but I would also be missing a month of work to attend it. Fortunately, that spring I was awarded the Stapleton-Weaver Scholarship, and in combination with a GEO scholarship, I was able to apply worry-free to the program, to which I was accepted. My classmates and I traveled Greece for four weeks learning and seeing things of which I had never dreamed possible. I gained not only knowledge, but also new friends and experiences and a renewed passion for learning. It was the trip of a lifetime!

The following spring, I applied for the scholarship again. After receiving the award for the second time, I was grateful for the financial support it was to offer, but I could not imagine the degree to which I would need it.

During the end of finals week last May, I learned of my father's paraspinal tumor. One week later, following its removal and analysis, my family was struck with his diagnosis. Stage IV lymphoma of the most aggressive form. The last thing on my mind was studying for my upcoming MCAT and medical school applications. It was the hardest summer of my life. I was working 60 hours a week at my seasonal summer job, studying for the MCAT, completing my AMCAS application, and spending all my free time at the hospital where my father was receiving intense chemotherapy or at home taking care of him between hospital visits. Luckily, his cancer is currently in remission, but it left lasting effects. He ultimately had to retire from his position as a prosecuting attorney for medical reasons and continues to do physical therapy to relearn to balance and walk, among other basic skills. I was somehow able to complete my applications and do well on my MCAT exam while earning money at work. But without this scholarship, this would not have been possible for me.

Obviously this experience made a large financial impact on my family. Since my father was out of work all summer and subsequently retired, our household income has decreased significantly. Although I work 20 hours a week, the maximum allowed by Vanderbilt, I still struggle to comfortably afford my medical school applications and travel to interviews, which I have been lucky to receive. I cannot express the deep gratitude I have for the Vanderbilt Woman's Club and the scholarship you graciously awarded to me last spring.

Although my life, like all of yours, is unpredictable, I take comfort in the generosity and goodwill of the influential and brilliant women of the Vanderbilt Woman's Club, with whom I am so proud to be associated. I will always be in your debt and I will always be your most dedicated ally. Thank you!

Annual Meeting 2014

The Vanderbilt Woman's Club annual meeting was held January 16 in the Old Gym. The 2014-15 Executive Committee was announced and member Elisabetha Baugh was inducted as a lifetime member. Dr. Emilie Townes, Vanderbilt's new Divinity Dean was the keynote speaker with a talk entitled "The Dancing Mind."

Elisabetha Baugh joined the Vanderbilt Woman's Club in 1974. Forty years later, we honor this wonderful woman who was born in Germany, has traveled to more than 130 countries and cherishes the friendships she has made through the Vanderbilt Woman's Club.

President Lynn Maddox presents Elisabetha Baugh with a lifetime membership certificate and rose.

The tasty lunch was provided by the Office of Enrollment Management. Many thanks to Dean of Admissions Doug Christiansen and his team for sponsoring the luncheon.

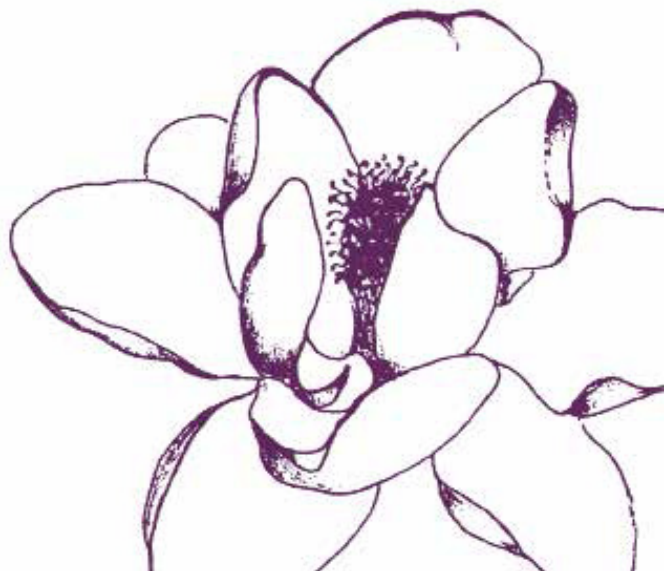

Divinity Dean Dr. Emilie Townes encouraged attendees to be present for others by being fully focused and aware of the person you're interacting with.
