President's Message

Moving to Nashville from Texas meant that I would be able to enjoy all that Fall has to offer. I'm patiently waiting for the weather to cool and to break out my sweaters. In the meantime, I've been enjoying all the wonderful opportunities that VWC has to offer. The club is in full swing after our summer lull I hope everyone is taking advantage of all the interest groups and upcoming activities.

We just had a wonderful Newcomers event it was so nice to meet our new members and their spouses. Thank you, Elisabeth Sandberg, for hosting and the board for providing the food and wine.

Please look for information about our Fall Luncheon in this newsletter. Its not too late to RSVP. If you want to tour the plantation afterwards, please go to the Belle Meade Plantation link and set up a tour.

The December Cookie Exchange date has changed - it is now on Thursday December 13th from 2-4 - same location at the home of Peggy Curci; more details to follow in November Magnolia News.

We wanted to offer another opportunity to participate in a community service project, and this one is for young women in Nashville schools. It is a collection of sanitary items for Project Period (find contact information in this newsletter) we will only be collecting at the Fall, Holiday and Spring luncheons. If you want to give at other times, please contact Cindy Slobogin slobogin@hotmail.com

We are looking for members to underwrite the ScholarSongs evening at The Listening Room. We are offering 7 tables of 10 in front of the stage at $1000 apiece and tables of 4 next to them at $400 each—all other seating will be $75. If you can underwrite any of these tables, please contact me at joyallingtonbaum@gmail.com or 214-755-5328. This includes food, drinks and singer songwriters along with the opportunity to win at the Silent Auction. This is our major fundraiser for our scholarship fund please consider joining us on Sunday, February 24th from 5-8 pm.

I want to clarify, and I wanted to say a big Thank You to Lydia Howarth for the lovely notecards we received at the Opening Tea and for the support she has given the Vanderbilt Woman's Club over the years.

See you at upcoming events, would love to hear your thoughts and comments. I'm open to listening, joyallingtonbaum@gmail.com or 214-755-5328.

Every leaf speaks bliss to me, fluttering from the autumn tree. Emily Bronte

Meet our new members

Deborah Enright

Deborah has been in Nashville since 2001 coming here from Washington D.C. She grew up in Arlington, VA. She has never lived abroad yet has travelled to Europe and Africa.

She attended Vassar college for undergrad and Vanderbilt (Peabody) for M.P.P. and Ed. D. She has worked as a Jazz Singer and a Development Officer.

Her hobbies are keeping up with current events and serving others. Deborah's secret indulgences are red wine and dark chocolate. A winning combination.

Taylor Schomp

moved to Nashville in 2009, but left the "Vandy bubble" in 2013. She was a Film Studies major, and a member of Alpha Chi Omega. That was really her second sorority at Vanderbilt, though -- when Taylor moved into West her freshman year, her dorm of 'Westies' quickly became a second family that would last a lifetime. During her college career, you would most likely find Taylor painted up on the front row of a basketball game. She also proudly won second place in the mac & cheese eating contest at the old C.T. West. Her first career after college was at a local animation studio here in the Nashville area. Now she works for a major manufacturer of household consumer goods, doing grassroots marketing to spread the word about their wholesale online store. Taylor and her dog Bailey spend a lot of time frequenting the Nashville dog parks these days. Her competitive spirit still runs strong, channeled now in local agility competitions with Bailey!

Michaelene Gnau

is a transplanted Pennsylvanian, coming with her husband to Nashville when he retired from forty-two years of medical practice. Her daughter, Dr. Kimberly Gnau Lomis and son-in-law, Dr. Michael Lomis were about to make her a grandmother.

She and her husband are from Williamsport, PA. She attended Divine Providence Hospital School of X-ray Technology earning her ARXT while also attending Lycoming College while her husband, Charles was earning his BS in Chemistry and Biology. They were married in 1959 and moved to Philadelphia where her husband went to medical school. Michaelene worked as an X-ray technician while also attending Temple University.

Internship sent them to Altoona PA where Michaelene transcribed physician dictations for Medical Records. Her husband went on to a surgical residency. During this first year, her daughter was born.

Charles was called up by the army. After service in Ft Lee, they moved to Lebanon, PA and he became an emergency room physician. They had a settled home and welcomed their son Steven into the family. Time was spent raising a family, while enjoying school and church activities, Girl and Boy Scout commitments, travelling, hiking excursions, learning to play bridge and she took up tennis. She eventually purchased a pro-shop which her children named Racquets 'N Jackets which she enjoyed running for 16 years.

They moved to Hermitage TN. Her granddaughter, Lindsey was born in 2003 and enjoying her grandchildren here has rewarded them with beautiful memories, Michaelene enjoys book clubs, community services, water aerobics and classes.

Her son, Steven is an attorney with offices in San Diego and he and his wife, Beverly live in Rancho Santa Fe CA with their second granddaughter Ryann. Trips to the West Coast keep her family close.

Michaelene lost Charles to cancer in 2015 and moved to the Cloisters at St. Henry and lives 2.5 miles from her daughter and her family. At The Cloisters she participates in a multitude of activities and has some wonderful new friends.

Jan Goddard

had some corrections to the biosketch which appeared in the September newsletter:

Jan has lived in Nashville for two years and is a transplant from Florida where she did a BS in Advertising and Marketing at the University of Florida. She worked for BellSouth in marketing until the children came and then devoted her time to volunteering. She and her husband started a Soup Kitchen for the homeless in Pensacola. With the children in school, she went back to do a masters in middle school English education and taught Language Arts until her retirement. After her husband's death, she relocated to Nashville and volunteered as a Classroom Assistant in the Osher Lifetime Learning Institute at Vanderbilt. She has recently been selected as chair of the Classroom Assistance Committee on the Advisory Board of OLLI. Her hobbies include walking, cycling, traveling, reading and spending time with family.

Grace Wernke and her husband Arlyn moved to Nashville from Dubuque, Iowa in 2015.

Her main reason for the move was the birth of her granddaughter, Livia Rae, whose parents are her son, Dr. Steven Wernke and daughter-in-law, Dr. Tiffany Tung, both Associate Professors of Anthropology at Vanderbilt University. They are thoroughly enjoying being an integral part of her life, and theirs! They go back to the Midwest often to visit her daughter, Suzanne and husband Patrick, who live in The Ledges near Rockford, Illinois.

Their first home here was a 2-bedroom condo in Burton Hills, which they took a year to completely rehab. However, having come from a 4-bedroom home with a 3-car garage which they had custom-built, they missed having more living space, so they flipped the condo and purchased a 4-bedroom home, also in Burton Hills, which again, they have completely updated. They enjoy that, especially the results! They've enjoyed international travel, visiting Spain, England, and South America. Their favorite trip was spending two weeks in Peru, which they toured extensively guided by their son and daughter-in-law. Her son and wife met and were married in the remote small Andean town of Yanque, which is close to the Chilean border. The topography, food, and people were awesome!

Grace attended Briar Cliff College and graduated from Loras College, Dubuque, IA, majoring in English Literature. She's enjoyed several interesting and lengthy careers at Loras College, as Associate Director of Alumni Relations, and at The McGraw-Hill Companies as a senior sales associate. She travelled extensively in both those careers, particularly in the Alumni Relations position.

Her hobbies include reading, singing and playing guitar, and refurbishing neglected furniture.

Things she loves (besides spending time with her granddaughter) are reading on a rainy day, having a glass of wine (or an occasional martini, shaken not stirred), with book club friends, volunteer work, and music! In addition, as president of the Village of Cherry Glen HOA, she is kept busy!

Her favorite nail polish is OPI Lucky Lady Lavender (or any pretty shades of mauve).

It will be a pleasure getting to know other members of VWC and helping out with various activities and fund-raisers!

Amy Smith and her husband, David moved here from Denver Colorado this past May and are finally feeling a little settled in their Green Hills home. Many have asked her why she would leave Colorado but she guesses you probably have heard a million times over... she came to be closer to the kids and grand children. Amy has three sons. One is married living here in Nashville with his wife and two daughters. Her other two sons are twins, one in Denver and one in Dallas. They are not married.

She works at Vanderbilt Medical Center on the new Cardiac Step-Down Unit that just had it's grand opening this past June. She is very excited to be a part of the Medical Center and enjoying her new nursing position a couple days a week. Career wise she has been a nurse for many years primarily in the NICU, and in management. Most recently, in Denver, and now here, has switched to adults with an interest in cardiac. Amy is a firm believer, that you can always learn something new!

Amy also loves decorating/entertaining and she owned a tabletop/gift store for 12 years in Denver called the Perfect Setting.

Her Husband, David works for Delek Oil and Gas in Brentwood. As empty nesters, they both enjoy the outdoors, hiking, walking, travel, cooking/entertaining/ wine and look forward to making Nashville their new home. She admits to being an occasional binge Netflix watcher and loves chocolate (!) history and culture so is loving learning all she can about Nashville and her new surroundings! They are both graduates of UNC.

Two of her sons are graduates of Vanderbilt University and the Owen Grad school as well. One of their sons is a graduate of SMU in Dallas.

She has been heavily involved over the years in her kid's schools, her church and several charities including Junior League where she chaired the dessert section in one of their cookbooks, Girl's Hope/Boy's Hope, and Metro Caring.

Also welcome Mercedes Baker and Suzanne Petrey

EXPLORERS

We're hoping for a beautiful fall day to enjoy Sue and Dan Clark's historic home and farm on Tuesday, October 9th at 11 AM. Dress for the weather (and leave your stilettos at home), and don't forget your sunscreen and a hat, if you'd like. Plan to drive 20 to 40 minutes from Green Hills or Cool Springs, depending on the traffic and your starting point. Please use the printed directions below, as Google maps has been leaving out a turn. Destination: Sue and Dan Clark, 225 Battle Road, Cane Ridge, TN 37013

Please RSVP by October 1st to me at andrews.judy@gmail.com or by evite. Check your inbox for your evite. Please let me know if you want a lunch provided for you or if you prefer to bring your own lunch. Water, lemonade, tea, and dessert will be provided for everyone. The cost for lunch is $15. I am working with The Picnic and Puffy Muffin to find the best option for us. On October 2nd, I will send a list of those who are planning to attend so you can arrange to ride with someone, if you'd like. You can also check the RSVP list on evite.

Here are the driving directions!

Directions to Sue's house at 225 Battle Road in Cane Ridge, TN:

From Green Hills:

Get on I-440 E and take it to I-24E toward Huntsville; Stay in the right lane. Bear right on I-24E. Drive 14 miles, and take exit 62 for Old Hickory Blvd. Exit right. After a mile, turn right onto Old Hickory. (Google maps has been leaving out this turn.) In about half a mile, turn left onto Battle Rd. 225 Battle Road is on the left.

From Cool Springs Galleria:

Take Galleria Blvd to Moores Lane. Turn right onto Moores Lane. Use the right 2 lanes to merge onto I-65 N via the ramp to Nashville. Take exit 71 for TN-253 E/Concord Road. Use any lane to turn left onto TN-253 E/Concord Rd. Go 6.4 miles, and turn right onto US-31 ALT S/US-41A S/Nolensville Rd/Nolensville Pike. After a half mile, turn left onto Burkitt Rd.

Sue Clark's home number is (615) 641-2564 and her cell is (615) 294-6270.

You can also call me (Judy) at (615) 604-9408.

We are in for a treat as we welcome Frist Museum of Art curator, Katie Delmez, who will be speaking about the Frist's exciting new exhibit, Paris 1900: City of Entertainment.

This exhibition is intended to immerse the American visitor in the Parisian Belle Époque (Beautiful Era). Encompassing the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, the period was known for fantasy, excess, and boundless faith in progress through science and technology. Originally presented in 2014 at the Petit Palais in Paris, the exhibition offers a selection of more than three hundred works of art, from paintings, prints, and sculptures to furniture, garments, and souvenirs. These objects hail from several City of Paris museums.
