

AwardADore Acceptable Use Policy

By accessing and using the AwardADore scholarship management platform, you agree to abide by the following acceptable use policy:

Access and Use of Data:

Access to the AwardADore platform is granted solely to individuals with a legitimate business need and specific authorization to view data relevant to their job responsibilities. Users must only use data from Vanderbilt University for official business purposes. Users acknowledge and respect the confidential nature of the data within AwardADore.

Data Management:

PeopleSoft Campus Solutions serves as the system of record for all student data and awards information. Users must recognize and respect this hierarchy when accessing and managing data within AwardADore. Users are prohibited from downloading data from AwardADore for the purpose of creating or supplementing another data system that circumvents established processes, protocols, or security measures. Any such needs must be discussed with the Office of Student Financial Aid.

Compliance and Accountability:

Users are responsible for ensuring compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, and institutional policies governing the use and protection of data within AwardADore.

Reporting and Communication:

Users are encouraged to report any suspected security incidents, unauthorized access, or breaches of confidentiality regarding AwardADore data to the appropriate authorities promptly. Communication regarding data needs or concerns should be directed to the Office of Student Financial Aid for proper evaluation and resolution.

By accessing AwardADore, you acknowledge that you have read, understand, and agree to comply with this acceptable use policy. Any unauthorized access, use, or disclosure of data is strictly prohibited and may result in disciplinary action.
