Dear Vanderbilt Alumni and Friends,

In September 2023, explore the Vanderbilts’ lavish legacy in the original Atlantic Ocean resort town: Newport, Rhode Island. In the 19th century, the “City by the Sea” thrived as a playground for the well-heeled, who constructed massive “cottages” as vacation homes here. By the Gilded Age, these elegant mansions lined Newport’s Bellevue Avenue, which buzzed with the sounds of dramatic balls, as Edith Wharton depicted in The Age of Innocence.

For the Vanderbilt family, Newport presented an opportunity to bring European-style opulence to American shores, with mansions modeled after grand Italian palazzi, villas, and French châteaux. On this journey, go behind the scenes of the city and its age-old mansions, including many built and occupied by Vanderbilts, which are now preserved as museums and private residences, all lovingly cared for and appreciated by a new generation.

Highlights include expert-guided inside looks at the ultimate Newport summer cottage, the 70-room mansion The Breakers, originally owned by Cornelius Vanderbilt II, grandson of Vanderbilt University founder Cornelius Vanderbilt; Marble House, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt’s estate, built in 1892 using more than 500,000 cubic feet of marble; and the English Manorial-style Rough Point, completed for Frederick William Vanderbilt in 1892 and later the home of Doris Duke. Enjoy access to rooms and art collections seldom seen by the public.

You will also have private access to Newport’s cultural sites that reflect the city’s origins as a mercantile hub and refuge for Baptists, Quakers, Jews, and other religious minorities. Go behind the scenes of the Neo-Palladian-style Touro Synagogue, built in 1763 and the oldest surviving synagogue in North America. Conclude with a private event at the Newport Art Museum, where you will meet the director and enjoy a special after-hours look at its American art collection.

I hope you join us for this splendid exploration of the Vanderbilt family’s legacy in one of America’s most storied and beautiful coastal towns.

Sincerely,

Cary DeWitt Allyn

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29: DEPARTURE / PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND / NEWPORT
Fly into Providence Airport by noon, and join the group transfer to Newport. Enjoy lunch upon arrival. Then, discover Rough Point, an English Manor-style home designed by architectural firm Peabody & Stearns for Frederick William Vanderbilt, completed in 1892. This estate was later home to Doris Duke—heiress, collector, and philanthropist. Make your way to the Brenton Hotel for check-in, and gather for a private reception at the hotel this evening. L,R

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30: NEWPORT
Start the day on historic Bellevue Avenue at the Isaac Bell House, one of the properties under the stewardship of the Preservation Society of Newport County. Designed by McKim, Mead & White and finished in 1883, the Isaac Bell House represents one of the best examples of shingle-style architecture and was revolutionary for its open-plan interior. Next, visit Marble House, which was completed in 1892 for Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt as their summer cottage, employing more than 500,000 cubic feet of marble. Architect Richard Morris Hunt, who also designed the façade and Great Hall of New York’s Metropolitan Museum of Art, used the Petit Trianon at Versailles as inspiration for Marble House. This evening, enjoy an exclusive viewing of the current exhibit at the Redwood Library & Athenaeum—the oldest continuously operating lending library in the United States still in its original building, completed in 1747. Dinner is at leisure. B,L

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 1: NEWPORT
Rise this morning for a special tour of the Neo-Palladian-style Touro Synagogue, which is the oldest synagogue in the United States, dating to 1763. Later, delight in a private tour of the Vernon House, a colonial-era house and National Historic Landmark known for its extraordinary Asian-inspired wall murals. During the American Revolutionary War, the Vernon House served as the headquarters of the Comte de Rochambeau, commander of the French forces from 1780 to 1783. Following lunch, the highlight of the day’s experience is the ultimate of all the Newport summer cottages: The Breakers. Designed by Richard Morris Hunt and completed in 1895 for Cornelius Vanderbilt II, this 70-room grand mansion sits on 13 acres of landscape. Venture to the Blue Garden, a beautiful space designed by Frederick Law Olmsted, Jr., for a special visit before an evening at leisure. B,L
MONDAY, OCTOBER 2: NEWPORT

Head down Bellevue Avenue to Belcourt, a former summer cottage designed by architect Richard Morris Hunt for Oliver Hazard Perry Belmont. Only intended for use six to eight weeks of the year, Belcourt has a distinctive design that reflects a multitude of European styles and periods. Lunch and the remainder of the afternoon are at leisure. In the early evening, enjoy a farewell reception at the Newport Art Museum, where you’ll meet with the director. The museum operates a gallery in the John N. A. Griswold House, a National Historic Landmark and the premier American Stick Style building, which was designed by Richard Morris Hunt. From there, gather for a festive farewell dinner at a local venue.
