One issue facing the state of Tennessee is how to select judges. Since 1970, judges on the Tennessee Supreme Court have been chosen by the Governor from a list of qualified candidates put forward by a nominating convention. The State Legislature is currently debating whether Tennessee should have voters elect judges. Some support this change because citizens rather than the governor would choose judges. Others oppose this change because it judges would have to campaign for election and it may politicize the judicial process. Which do you think – who how should judges be chosen, or haven't you thought much about it?
