Who is responsible for export compliance?
Each individual is responsible and held accountable for exporting information and items, within or outside of the US. Penalties for non-compliance are severe and can result in monetary fines, jail time, as well as termination.