If you are a national requesting your own home country data sets, LAPOP provides access to your own country's data at no cost. You don't need to be living in your home country. This free service is for individuals only, not for institutions.

Once you receive the data, your ownership of the data sets is permanent. Please read all terms and conditions of the agreement before signing it. Note that you may not distribute the data sets to third parties (who need to obtain their own access).
