

Experts in the News - January 2005

The page below lists a sample of political scientists who recently appeared in the news media.

Cal Jillson, (Southern Methodist University), on the effect the Iraqi elections might have on President Bush's domestic programs...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 31

George Edwards III, (Texas A&M University), discusses the Republicans already vying for the 2008 Republican presidential nomination in the key battleground state of South Carolina ...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 31

Keith Nicholls, (University of South Alabama), comments on Lt. Governor Lucy Baxley's chances of capturing the 2006 Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Alabama...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 30

Ross Baker, (Rutgers University), on the anonymous, automated phone messages many Republican representatives received...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 28

Donald F. Kettl, (University of Pennsylvania), is named the Stanley I. Sherr Endowed Term Professor in the Social Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 25

Aubrey Jewett, (University of Central Florida), sheds light on the current trend of "political nepotism" rampant in Florida government...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 24

Harold F. Bass, (Ouachita Baptist University), on President George W. Bush's role as a party leader...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 23

Paul Frymer, (Princeton University), wins the American Political Science Association's Mary Parker Follett award for his article on racial integration of national labor unions...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 22

Colleen Shogan, (George Mason University), compares the legislative success of presidents Bush and Reagan during their first and second terms...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 21

Ross Baker, (Rutgers University), comments on the Democratic effort to prevent another Republican victory in four years...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 20

Ed Renwick, (Loyola University), conducted a recent poll to gauge President Bush's approval rating among voters in the state of Louisiana...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 20

David Brady, (Stanford University), discusses Bush's second-term agenda, and his proposed modifications to Social Security, the tax laws and the court system...[\[listen to the NPR report\]](#)--January 19

Susan Macmanus, (University of South Florida), on the recent trend of unmarried candidates running for office, and the speculation it incites...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 19

Gilbert St. Clair, (University of New Mexico), comments on Governor Bill Richardson's love for publicity and his concern for the citizens of New Mexico...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 18

Gerald Benjamin, (SUNY, New Paltz), on the Democratic resurgence in the state of New York...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 18

Bert A. Rockman, (Ohio State University), on the appeal of the Bush family to a middle class audience...[\[read the article\]](#)--January 17

Norman Ornstein, (American Enterprise Institute), Stephen Hess & Thomas Mann, (The

Join/Renew Now!

Contribute

Press

Experts in the News

Experts in the News - November 2004

Experts in the News - October 2004

Experts in the News - July-Sept 2004

Experts in the News - December 2004

Experts in the News - January 2005

2004 Elections

2004 Canadian Election

Brookings Institution), Larry Sabato (University of Virginia), and Steve Smith (Washington University, St. Louis) , on President George Bush's ambitious domestic agenda...
[read the article]--January 16

Ronald Rogowski, (University of California, Los Angeles), is named Associate Dean of UCLA International Institute...[read the article]--January 15

Mitchell A. Seligson, (Vanderbilt University) , measures the impact of U.S. foreign assistance on democracy-building efforts around the globe...[read the article]--January 15

Paula D. McClain, (Duke University), is named president of the Southern Political Science Association, one of the seven regional affiliates of the American Political Science Association ...
[read the article]--January 14

Ranjit Singh, (University of Mary Washington), discusses the Palestinian election and the pressure faced by the Israelis as residents of the only Arab democracy...[read the article]--
January 14

David Hedge, (University of Florida), comments on the centralization of the president and Congress, and the steps state lawmakers are taking to even the playing field...[read the article]--
January 12

Raphael Sonenshein, (California State University, Fullerton), on campaign fundraising for the Los Angeles mayor's race, and the variations regarding financial resources ...[read the article]--January 11

Kenneth C. Blanchard Jr., (Northern State University), explains PEST (Post Election Selection Trauma), its systems, and the impact this ailment had on Democrats, particularly in New York...[read his article]--January 11

H. George Frederickson (University of Kansas), on Columbia, South Carolina Mayor Bob Coble and his plans to implement a new form of city government...[read the article]--January 10

The American Political Science Association, is mentioned in this article on Instant Run-Off Voting (IRV), our preferred method of electing candidates into office...[read the article]--January 10

John Alford (Rice University), on Texas Governor Rick Perry and the challenges he faces within the Texas Legislature...[read the article]--January 9

Charlie Cook (National Journal), shares the extensive history and traditions of Congress, but also gives us a closer look at how the 109th session may be breaking the rules...[listen to the NPR report]--January 6

Wayne Parent (Louisiana State University), comments on Melvin "Kip" Holden's mayoral victory and the barriers he broke in Baton Rouge, Louisiana...[read the article]--January 5

Natalie Davis (Birmingham-Southern College), on Birmingham Mayor Bernard Kincaid and his strained relationship with the city council...[read the article]--January 4

Walter Dean Burnham (University of Texas, Austin), discusses how the state of California can move forward during President Bush's second term...[read the article]--January 3

Bruce Cain (University of California, Berkeley), examines Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger's plans for his second term...[read the article]--January 2

Charles S. Bullock III (University of Georgia), on the power Mayor L. Douglas Wilder holds in Richmond, Virginia ...[read the article]--January 2

John Santosuosso (Florida Southern College), discusses the tax increase to fund health care for those who do not have insurance in Polk County, Florida...[read the article]--January 1

Larry Sabato (University of Virginia), on President Bush's decision to send his brother, Gov. Jeb Bush, to Asia following the devastating tsunamis...[read the article]--January 1

© Copyright 2005 American Political Science Association (APSA)
1527 New Hampshire Ave, NW Washington, DC 20036-1206
Ph: (202) 483-2512 Fx: (202) 483-2657 E-Mail: apsa@apsanet.org