Resources for Part IIIa: The Governments of the Historic Right

1. Chart of the Prime Ministers of the Right, showing
   - The region from which they came
   - their dates in office
   - their “party” affiliation and the make-up of the parliament during their tenure
   - the reason(s) for the collapse of their government

   I would suggest you print this out and have it available for reference during class.

2. A proclamation by Vittorio Emanuele II upon the liberation of the South during the Second War of Italian Independence

3. A copy of the Syllabus of Errors, an addition to the papal encyclical Quanta Cura from Pope Pius IX

4. For those of you who read Italian, a description of the “Sette e mezzo” by the great Sicilian mystery writer (author of the Montalbano series) Andrea Camilleri.

If you haven’t yet done so, you may want to look at this video for background on the Risorgimento (or review it if you need a refresher)

   Ten Minute History: The Unification of Italy

   https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=kjFscoiE8eI

And take another look at Simple Comparison of North-Center and South of Italy at the Time of Unification

   Separate document on this webpage