

Residence Hall Access

Each Vanderbilt student is issued a Commodore Card that serves as a student ID, allows cash free purchases at on-campus and off-campus locations, and authorizes access to appropriate campus buildings.

Our Commodore Card access system controls students' access to:

- His or her residence hall through the building's designated main entryway, 24 hour a day, 7 days per week
- Stairwells and elevators within the residence halls so that only building residents can access their residence hall's floors
- Buildings where students' classes are held.

If you cannot access a location that you feel you should be able to enter, report the problem to the Area Coordinator for your residential area.

If your Commodore Card is lost or stolen,

- Go to vanderbilt.edu/commodorecard/students.html
- Click on to the “University” tab on the navigation bar and scroll down to the “Students” tab.
- Click on the “Manage My Card” link to prevent unauthorized use of your card.

Replacement cards can be obtained at the Commodore Card Office in the Sarratt Student Center.

*Do not loan your card to anyone,
and do not use anyone else's card.*
