THREE IMPORTANT COMMITMENTS
Our resolve to make a Vanderbilt education accessible and affordable to all admitted students is stronger than ever. Opportunity Vanderbilt encompasses THREE IMPORTANT COMMITMENTS

1. Providing for a college experience is one of the largest single investments a family will make, and we strongly believe that a Vanderbilt education is worth it. As a result, we do three very important things to make it possible for students from many different economic circumstances to enroll at Vanderbilt.

2. Vanderbilt will meet 100% of demonstrated financial need for all admitted students. With the additional investment that we make in your future, many students often pay no more to attend Vanderbilt than they would pay to attend a college with a lower total cost.

3. Financial aid awards do not include loans. Instead of offering need-based loans to undergraduate students, Vanderbilt offers additional grant/gift assistance. This initiative does not involve income bands or “cut-offs” that impact or limit eligibility and instead applies to all admitted U.S. citizens and eligible non-citizens with demonstrated financial need.

Since talent and promise recognize no social, cultural, economic, or geographic boundaries, our admissions process is need-blind for U.S. citizens and eligible non-citizens. This means your family’s ability to pay for a Vanderbilt education is not a factor in our admissions process. Our goal is to admit students who will be academically successful and contribute to our community.

Opportunity Vanderbilt’s three commitments place Vanderbilt among a small number of U.S. universities to adopt these philosophies and allocate the resources necessary to make a premier college education a reality for students and their families.

Students are offered financial aid packages that do not include need-based loans and with gift aid increased to meet full demonstrated need.

The Financial Aid Award

The typical need-based financial aid award that Vanderbilt offers to eligible first-year undergraduates consists of a combination of grants, scholarships, and employment opportunities/expectations.

Grants and scholarships come from various sources including Vanderbilt, federal, state, and private sources. These funds are considered “gift” assistance and do not have to be repaid. Employment opportunities offer students a chance to gain valuable work experience in addition to receiving a paycheck for their hours worked.

Loans are not included in financial aid packages based upon our initiative of replacing need-based loans with grant assistance. Under certain conditions and based upon individual family circumstances or desires, however, loans from federal and other sources may ultimately be made available to students upon their request to replace any work expectation in the award or to replace some portion of the family’s expected contribution.

Financial need is determined using the financial data you and your family submit. Each student’s file is reviewed on a case-by-case basis in order to determine his/her Expected Family Contribution (EFC).

Once your EFC has been determined, your Financial Aid Officer will calculate the difference between the cost of attending Vanderbilt and the contribution expected from you and your parents. This is your financial need.

An allowance for travel will also be added to this cost and is calculated based upon the student’s state of residence. First-year engineering students are required to either purchase a laptop from Vanderbilt or provide their own computer that meets or exceeds School of Engineering requirements. The current estimate for the computer if purchased through Vanderbilt is $1,500. In addition, each engineering student must pay a laboratory fee of $650. These amounts will be added to the cost of attendance.
Revealing the Numbers

There is no specific income that will automatically qualify a family to receive need-based aid at Vanderbilt. Income is only one consideration when determining eligibility for need-based financial aid. Other significant factors include, but are not limited to: family size, number of children in college, private elementary and secondary tuition expenses, and family assets.

Applying for need-based aid is the only way to accurately determine your eligibility for such financial assistance.

Merit-Based Scholarships at Vanderbilt

In addition to need-based assistance, Vanderbilt awards merit-based scholarships to applicants who demonstrate exceptional accomplishment and intellectual promise. These students represent the top 1 percent of all freshman applicants to Vanderbilt. Three signature scholarship programs—The Ingram Scholarship Program, Cornelius Vanderbilt Scholarship Program, and Chancellor’s Scholars Program—comprise the majority of Vanderbilt’s merit-based scholarships. Recipients of these signature scholarships are guaranteed full-tuition awards, plus summer stipends for study abroad, research, or service projects. Additional merit-based scholarships beyond the three signature programs are also available to qualified students. For more detailed information, deadlines, and application information, visit vanderbilt.edu/scholarships.

WHEN I APPLY FOR NEED-BASED FINANCIAL AID, AM I ALSO BEING CONSIDERED FOR VANDERBILT MERIT-BASED SCHOLARSHIPS?

HOW CAN I FIND OUT ABOUT SCHOLARSHIPS OR FINANCIAL AID THAT MAY BE AVAILABLE OUTSIDE OF VANDERBILT?

Vanderbilt students have been very successful in obtaining outside sources of assistance. For example, during the 2013/14 academic year, Vanderbilt undergraduates were awarded outside assistance of more than $5,647,000. This included more than $2.6 million in gift assistance from the Tennessee Education Lottery Scholarship program (up to $5,500 per year, per student).

Also included was $2,627,323 awarded to students after applying on their own to sponsoring organizations including parents’ employers, religious organizations, fraternal societies, women’s clubs, and veterans groups. Information and advice regarding outside sources of assistance can be obtained through your high school guidance counselor, publications, and the Internet. You may also access FastWeb, a free resource for information regarding scholarship opportunities available from a variety of entities, at fastweb.com.

HOW WILL OUTSIDE SCHOLARSHIPS AFFECT MY FINANCIAL AID PACKAGE?

Based upon past experience, we anticipate that many of our first-year undergraduate students will receive outside scholarships or other gift assistance to help fund their educational costs. Any outside scholarship(s) must be taken into account as part of your total need-based financial aid package and cannot be counted as part of, or as a replacement for, your Expected Family Contribution (EFC).

If an adjustment in your need-based financial aid package is necessary, the outside scholarship will be used first to replace an equivalent amount of academic year earnings expectation. Receipt of outside scholarship funds may sometimes result in a reduction of other grant/gift funds, but such reductions will be made only as a last resort and only if no other options exist.

CAN MY PARENTS SECURE A LOAN TO HELP PAY FOR MY EDUCATIONAL EXPENSES?

The Federal Direct PLUS Loan provides an opportunity for parents to potentially borrow up to your full cost of attendance for each academic year, minus any financial assistance received. Information regarding the PLUS Loan can be found on our website at vanderbilt.edu/financialaid/loans-payment/fedplus.php.
Students may use their financial aid for study abroad in approved Vanderbilt programs that are coordinated by the Global Education Office and offered during the fall and/or spring semesters.

There are a variety of jobs available on campus and in the surrounding Nashville area that provide part-time employment opportunities for students. Payment is dependent upon the position obtained and the type of work performed. Students earn a paycheck for the hours worked each pay period and those funds may be saved or applied to living expenses.

While Vanderbilt’s costs may increase from year to year, if your family’s circumstances—particularly the number of family members, family members in college, income, and assets—remain relatively unchanged, you can expect to receive a comparable amount of aid during your upperclass years. To be considered for institutional need-based financial assistance from Vanderbilt, you must reapply each year by completing the College Scholarship Service (CSS) Financial Aid PROFILE. To be considered for federal, state, and institutional financial aid programs, you must reapply each year by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).
