In this course, we will study Earth and environmental processes and systems in the field, with an emphasis on field methods. In 2022, the course will be held in New Zealand, which will give us the opportunity to study a variety of topics in Earth and environmental sciences, including magmatism, eruptions, and volcanoes, including natural hazards and resources derived from them; earthquakes and their impacts on society; surface landscapes and the processes that modify them over time. We will do so while travelling through various regions of New Zealand.
