EUS 2260–05 – Migration, International Health, Social Justice, and Romantic Poetry from the Swiss Alps to Rome

Instructor: Professor Robert Barsky
Location: Geneva, Chamonix, Mürren, and Zurich, Switzerland; Rome, Italy; Vatican City
Dates: May 7 – June 2 (May 7-13, Geneva; May 16-19, Chamonix; May 19-24, Mürren; May 4-26, Zurich; May 26-June 2, Rome and Vatican City)

In this Maymester, Professor Robert Barsky will make this link between radicalism and creativity, safe haven and international law, medicine and international engagement, by exploring institutes, specialists and natural settings in the Swiss Alps and then in Rome, Italy. Beginning in Geneva, the students will be introduced to the international legal and non-governmental organizations that uphold international laws, notably the Red Cross, the World Health Organization, the International Organization for Migration, the United Nations, UNICEF, the International Labor Organization, the World Trade Organization, Doctors Without Borders, and the United Nations High Commission for Refugees. Students will meet with high-ranking officials from those organizations, and witness firsthand the kinds of work that is directed from the Geneva offices.

FEES: Cost is approx. $12,348.00
