President’s Letter

Ahh Spring! How “mud-luscious” and “puddle-wonderful” as E.E. Cummings stated in one of my favorite poems “in Just-.” What are your favorite poems? What words resonate with you? Join us to hear Kate Daniels, Vanderbilt’s professor of poetry, present the “Curious Power of Poetry” on May 10th.

We are hosting our first “Meet and Three” Food Drive for Second Harvest Food Bank on May 15th. You will “meet” VWC friends and donate “Meat and Three” food. Bring your food donation to Kelly Chamber’s house with a drive-thru food drop off. We encourage you to collect donations from your neighbors to bring along. Thank you for helping.

Lunch Bunch, Book Clubs, Music group, Antiques, MahJongg, Cribbage, Garden Club and Chocolate Lovers are meeting on zoom or in person while following VU COVID guidelines. Read the newsletter to see dates and times.

Read Joy Allington-Baum’s article, “From the Archives,” and discover our fascinating history and its connection with Magnolia trees on campus. Check the Magnolia News for other VU events. Listed this month are graduation addresses, Women’s Center book talk, and an art exhibit. There are community events from Picasso at The Frist Museum of Art to music at Cheekwood.

Our Spring meeting on May 10th will be our last meeting for the year. Please plan to attend!

Stay curious, stay connected, and stay safe!

Sincerely,

Tracy Stadnick

From the Archives by Joy Allington-Baum

The Garden Club: The story I heard when I joined the VWC was that the ladies of the Vanderbilt Garden Club snuck on to campus and planted their last round of plants prior to their losing control to the groundskeepers of Vanderbilt. I loved this story as I felt it really showed the quiet power of the Southern women. Alas, it was a story and I cannot remember who told me and the sources, I have checked, had not heard this one. I somehow also believed that VWC was partially responsible for planting the Magnolia trees on campus. We did have cross over members yet we were not responsible.

The real story of the Vanderbilt Garden Club is a fascinating one. It was founded in 1927 with its by-laws adopted in 1935. Mrs. James Kirkland, the Chancellors wife said that she wanted the Vanderbilt Campus to be as beautiful as other universities in the South. Members had to be invited to join and it was kept to 25, with a few honorary members. Dues were $1 twice per year. Vanderbilt did not have a dedicated campus beautification budget. Money was tight during that period. The members weeded and planted both shrubs and trees. An unknown biology professor left some money to the group and Dr. George Gage, Professor of Botany donated both time and expertise. When these ladies met, they wore hats and gloves and tea was always served. Mrs. Kirkland was also one of the founders of the Vanderbilt Woman’s Club which she helped found in 1893.

The Magnolia Plant project was a passion of Margaret Branscomb, the wife of the Chancellor and Jack Lynn, Superintendent of Gardens. They created a special committee for this project. Between them, they were responsible for planting 100’s of magnolias that are part of Vanderbilt today. Margaret Branscomb was charged with soliciting donations and was very successful. Jack Lynn was prolific with the germination of seeds and the whole group helped grow, plant and pay for these trees.

In 1946 the bylaws were amended to include the wives of Vanderbilt’s Board of Trust, administration or faculty. These matched the Vanderbilt Woman’s Club membership requirements. In 1949 the membership was increased to 50 with not more than 10 new members admitted each year. In 1968 Vanderbilt Garden Club adopted the VWC membership guidelines. They were thought of as separate entities of two groups of women who were associated with Vanderbilt. Margaret Branscomb also founded the Newcomers Club, under the umbrella of the VWC. So, there was a cross over with all the Women’s clubs on campus. During the VWC centennial in 1993 the Garden Club voted to have an oak tree planted in recognition of this special event. So, in 1994 A burr oak was planted at the Garden Club’s request in the Bicentennial Oak Lawn to commemorate the Vanderbilt Woman’s Club Centennial. The tree cost $62.50 and was installed by Vanderbilt. The Vanderbilt Garden Club disbanded in fall of 2006 as the landscaping on campus was being done by professional crews.

So yes, all the clubs were interwoven. Dot Galloway and Lynne Siesser decided to call our newsletter the Magnolia News. This was to ‘honor Margaret Branscomb who was instrumental in planting the Magnolias on campus as a buffer for noisy West End.” stated Lynne Siesser.

A True Plant Tale or how Lynne was nearly arrested.

Member of both the Garden Club and VWC, Lynne Siesser was collecting Iris bulbs (for which Peabody was famous) for the Garden Club in front of the Peabody Hill Student Center. Traditionally each Peabody graduate was given a bulb from the campus at Commencement and The Garden Club was collecting bulbs to revitalize the plantings. While sitting at the table with her collection box of Iris bulbs, enjoying the day, a campus police man came up to her. She had been spotted. It had been reported that there was a lady selling stuff to the students. This was not allowed. After an explanation, discussion and positive resolution, Lynne sat for a moment then decided, “I think I’m done for the day” and packed up and left to fight another day.

‘Get Fit’

Social distancing doesn’t have to be a deterrent for getting out and getting fit. A new year is a great time for renewed goals. Running is a great way to stay vibrant, feel better, and get your “glow” on. If running isn’t for you (or your knees), walking is equally good. If you would like some additional motivation, there are “virtual” races that you can participate in. These great races can be completed entirely at your leisure and pace, at a distance you can choose (5k, 10k, half-marathon, etc.). They offer fun incentives (think swag AND medals) to encourage runners and walkers to get out and exercise without gathering in huge crowds. You’ll find many races support great charities as well.

Virtual Running Club (www.virtualrunningclub.com) recently held a “Ratification Race” that celebrated the 100th anniversary of the ratification of the 19th Amendment (a portion of registration fees went to the National Park Foundation’s Women in Parks initiative). A quick Google Search for: Virtual Running Clubs will give you a list of great options to check out . . . or contact me any time for help, training suggestions, encouragement, or to schedule virtual walks/runs together!

Exciting races are happening virtually all the time.

Check out a virtual race and get or stay fit and healthy in reality (and socially distanced).

Lunch Bunch

Well, our first lunch bunch has occurred. I want to thank Peggy for being the coordinator and watching for members both old and new. I will be fully vaccinated and past the waiting period by the next event on May 27th and will be so happy to see everyone.

NEXT LUNCH

May 27th from 12:30-1:30pm
At Peachtree Drive-In
329 Peachtree Street, Nashville, TN 37210

I inherited a list of 131 members. So, I sent out an email asking people to let me know if they want to be kept on the list. Don’t worry if you haven’t replied you can now. Even if you aren’t quite ready to eat at the moment, I need to hear from you. This new list will be the one I use to send out reminders. My goal is to try and hold our lunches in both Brentwood and Nashville. If you have suggestions for places with outdoor dining let me know.

Dear Music Groupies,
We finally have an opportunity to get together for some music! Cheekwood is offering live instrumental Jazz on Sundays in May. The Midtown Jazz Quartet of the Nashville Jazz Workshop will perform from 11a.m. to 2p.m. in the Bracken Foundation Children's Garden. This is where we met last summer for music.
Sunday, May 9 works best for me so let's meet around 11:00 a.m. in the Children's Garden area. Please text me when you arrive (615-974-5121) Visit cheekwood.org for information about ticket purchase. The concert is included with admission. You can bring lawn chairs or blankets as well as refreshments. They usually have food trucks there as well.
Please let me know if you can join in. It will be great to see your friendly faces again!! If May 9 is not good for you then you can plan to go on another Sunday in May.

Greetings Ladies of VWC!

The Community Service Committee is so excited about our upcoming event, "Meet and Three". We are hosting a club-wide food drive on May 15, 2021, 10am-2pm to benefit our partner, Second Harvest Food Bank of Middle TN. Each year more than 2 million pounds of food are collected through food drives. Since the pandemic, Second Harvest has seen a 33% increase in adults experiencing food insecurity, and an even more shocking 54% increase in food insecurity among children. Between March 2020 and December 2020 they distributed over 35 million meals!

Let's do our part. We need YOU! DRIVE BY: Help us reach goal of filling eight to ten Second Harvest collection boxes-that's 800-1,000 pounds! See the flyer for the types of food requested. STOP BY: We need 2-3 volunteers every hour between 9am and 3pm to help receive food from donors, stack it in Kelly's garage, and transport it to Second Harvest. If we reach our goal, they will come by and pick it up. Many thanks to Kelly for hosting the event at her home.

Please click here: SIGN ME UP! to volunteer- by May 8th. In case of rain, stay tuned for the alternative date.

For more information, contact Anna Walker 615-545-7788 or totallyou@msn.com

I'm looking forward to seeing you in person and getting back to better soon.

With Gratitude,
Anna

15 members enjoyed the Herb Society talk by sisters, Nancy Coleman and Pat Hampton.

The Chocolate Club held a tasting with Poppy and Peep. The owners, Mark and Evane and Kristy, their chocolatier guided us on a tasting of various treats explaining how they were created. We tasted bonbons, cocoa nibs, chocolate from Ghana, and a Hazelnut spread along with fruit candies. We learned the process from cocoa bean to chocolate bar and hand painted bonbon. It was a delicious experience!

Kate Daniels

"The Curious Power of Poetry"

Kate Daniels was educated at the University of Virginia (B.A. and M.A. in English Literature) and Columbia University (M.F.A. School of the Arts). Her honors include a Guggenheim Fellowship in poetry; a Bunting Fellowship at Harvard University; artist residencies at the Lannan Foundation in Marfa, Texas, and Yaddo; election to the Fellowship of Southern Writers; the Harvie Branscomb Distinguished Professor Award for Creative Scholarship, Teaching, and Service from Vanderbilt University; and the endowed chair appointment as the Edwin Mims Professor of English at Vanderbilt. Her teaching career has taken her to the University of Virginia; the University of Massachusetts at Amherst; Louisiana State University; Wake Forest University; Bennington College; and – since 1998 – Vanderbilt University, where she co-founded the MFA program in creative writing. She also teaches in Vanderbilt’s Medicine, Health, and Society program. A Visiting Scholar at the Center for Biomedical Ethics and the Humanities at the University of Virginia in the spring of 2019, she is now permanently affiliated with the Center.

Daniels’ poetry appears in more than seventy-five anthologies, and individual poems have been selected for Best American Poetry 2008, 2010, and 2019. She is the author of six books of poetry. Her most recent – Three Syllables Describing Addiction (Bull City Press, 2018) and In the Months of My Son’s Recovery (LSU, 2019) – emerge from her longtime interest in the Health Humanities. A former poet in residence at Duke University Medical Center and Vanderbilt University Medical Center, her current work explores the convergences of poetry and psychoanalysis, and narratives of the opioid epidemic. In addition to her own writing on these subjects, Daniels facilitates Writing for Recovery workshops, for people with family and friends struggling with addiction, and writing workshops for covid-19 healthcare workers, called The Things They Carry.

Kate Daniels resides in Nashville, Tennessee.

Pressed for Time: Five Centuries of Prints from the Jack May Collection
On view through May 17, 2021
Curated by Vanderbilt students in conjunction with the Immersion Program and a class on History of Prints (HART-2775, Prof. David H. Price), this exhibition draws on the private collection of Nashville collector Jack May to explore the diverse and fascinating history of printmaking.

The Jack May Collection, which began as one man’s summary of the history of Western prints, has evolved into an impressive anthology of the medium as a whole. With works by artists such as Albrecht Dürer, Rembrandt van Rijn, Francisco Goya, Honoré Daumier, Henri Matisse, Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec, Pablo Picasso, and Edward Hopper, the collection is every bit as varied as it is extensive. In addition to idealistic portrayals of the beauty of human life and nature, the print artist, like Jack May himself, has a special affinity for social critique, satire, and humor.

Pressed for Time is curated by David H. Price, Cainie Brown, Chloe Davis, Peter Stidman, and Sarah Treadway, with assistance from Harrison Denman, Christopher Elliott, Sophia Moak, Courtney Rebkamp, Daniel Rodriguez, Won Jun Seok, and Margaret Sturm.

COVID

Some key reminders from Vanderbilt:
- Always wear a face mask when around others.
- Also make sure your mask fits properly to help protect yourself and others as much as possible.
- Wear a face mask during meals with others and only take it off to take bites and sips.
- Keep 6 feet of distance when hanging out or eating with others - this includes both indoors and outdoors, whether just hanging out or participating in an activity.
- Avoid crowded areas on campus and around Nashville.
- Do not attend large gatherings, defined as more than twelve people outside according to university safety protocols. Eight inside.
- Avoid getting in cars with others.
- Regularly wash your hands.

Ask an Expert: Why is it still important to follow COVID-19 safety protocols after receiving the vaccine?

Vanderbilt University Senior Associate Dean for Graduate Medical Education and Professor of Medicine Donald W. Brady discussed the importance of continuing to follow COVID-19 health and safety protocols even after receiving the vaccine during the Spring Return to Campus Town Hall on Jan. 13, 2021.
